CHECK RETURNS AT POSTOFFICE

Government Aids Receive 1,000 Unemployment Cards from Salem District

One thousand persons, either partially or totally unemployed, in the district served by the Salem postoffice, have returned the questionnaires distributed in the government's unemployment census.
Postmaster A. E. Beardmore disclosed today.

Approximately 6,000 cards were sent out to patrons of the postoffice.

The postoffice's next step in the census to complete the census, as far as motor vehicles is concerned, is to recheck
all cards, separate them into Columbiana and Mahoning county groups, check them against the WPA employment roster and then contact individuals who failed to fill out the questions properly.

The official results of the nationwide census will be announced later at Washington, D. C.

Eells, 35, who for a number of years
assisted his brother, Gerald V.
Eells, as funeral director here, died at 3 a. m. today as the result of a heart complication. He had been ill since May, 1936.

Born Feb. 13, 1902, in Lisbon he was the son of Erastus and Jane B.
Eells. He attended Mount Union college for slightly more than two years and graduated from the Columbus training school for embalmers in 1923. He was a Lisbon High school graduate.

After passing the state board examination, he joined his father's undertaking establishment here.
From 1926 to 1936 he served as president of Eells Sons Co., selling his interest in the business to his brother, Gerald, in 1936.

A member of four Masonic bodies,
F. & A. M. No. 65 of Lisbon and two brothers, Gerald V. of Lisbon

and Roger G. of Columbiana.

A private funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at

Study Provisions Of New Motor Law

LISBON, Nov. 22.—Clerk of Courts
Carl Stacey and his chief deputy,
Edward Sullivan, attended a meeting in Columbus Sunday of the Ohio Association of Clerks of Courts, called to explain provisions of the new bill of sale law.

Under the new law, manufacturers are required to present dealers with a "birth" certificate, representing the first conveyance of title. If the car is purchased outright from the dealer a certificate of title must go to the customer from the dealer. A memorandum certificate is issued by the dealer in the event of a lien against the machine. Provisions also have been made for a certificate transferring title in a re-sale.

Although the old bill of sale law was repealed by the enactment of the certificate of title law enacted by the last legislature, it will be the policy of the bureau of motor vehicles to continue recognition of Ohio bills of sale after Jan. 1. In applicable cases such forms must be presented to the clerk of courts.

Wednesday afternoon in the High

The High school students are expected to make the rafters ring with songs and cheers in anticipation of the traditional Turkey day football game between Salem and Alliance on Thursday.

ICY HIGHWAYS TAKE TEN LIVES

Many Minor Collisions
Reported In Salem
District

The first heavy snow of the winter let up today but a blanket, generally several inches deep, remained over Ohio as it continued cold with a toll of two dead from exposure and many traffic accidents.

Ten persons died as result of traffic accidents over the weekend. Hunting accidents accounted for three more deaths. There were other fatalities, raising the state's total over 20.

Many highways were in difficult driving condition but the only one reported blocked was State Route 84 east of Cleveland.

Minor Collisions Reported

Accidents on highways near Salem were few and far between but in the city, where the streets were treacherous, numerous minor collisions occurred.

John Lowery, 67, of Alliance, was killed when he walked in front of an automobile on Route 62, a short distance east of Alliance, early Sunday. He died enroute to Alliance City hospital.

Charles Gordon, 57, died at Youngstown yesterday as the result of injuries received when struck by an automobile, on Oct.
19.

Richard Heddlston of East Liverpool told police he drove his truck
over the curb at the intersection of S. Lundy ave. and E. Pershing st. at 8:35 p. m. Sunday in an attempt to avoid striking an automobile which drove in front of him.
The front end of the truck was damaged.

High School Girl's "Little White Lie"

Blamed In Death of Chicago Student

Said She Was To Become Mother; Boy's Body Taken
From Car By Police

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—A "little white lie" from the lips of a pretty dark haired 16-year-old High school girl was blamed today for the death of a young military cadet.

The girl, Lorraine Harynek, said in a signed statement to police she had told Warren S. Stanley, 17-year-old son of a wealthy cosmetics manufacturer, she was to become a mother; when actually, she said,
"it wasn't true at all."

The cadet, with a bullet wound
in the head, was found early Sunday in a wrecked automobile which police said had been stolen. A pistol was clutched in one hand. He had been a student at the Missouri
Military academy at Mexico, Mo.

State Policemen Walter Healy
and William Hogan said Stanley's car led them in an 80-mile-an-hour chase, skidded on the icy pavement and crashed into a tree.
Healy asserted he heard a pistol
report and found the youth slumped
over the steering wheel.

In his pocket police found a note addressed to Miss Harynek, who said their romance dated back to grammar school. The missive attested to his love for her.

"I have known Warren for 10 years," the girl said. "I told him I was to become a mother. It wasn't true at all. Warren always wanted to have a baby, so I told him that to make him feel happy."

Parents Divorced
The youth was a son of Sinclair
G. Stanley, owner of a cosmetics company, and Mrs. Estelle Stanley.
The parents were divorced last September.

The note found in young Stanley's pocket was addressed to Miss Harynek, whom he termed the "dearest, darling, sweetest girl in the world." It read in part:
"I love you. I love you. I cannot stand the strain of being away from you. I am sending you what money I have. I hope you have a good time with it. Do whatever you want to with it. I am going to shoot myself tonight. I think.
"If I do please forgive me. I think I will. I have always wanted to, and now I am. I really love you, darling. Sweetheart, I love you.
You can use this letter as evidence that I am the father of your child
if you get one. I love you. That's all."

It was signed "Warren."

CROP CONTROL PLAN SENT TO SENATE TODAY

Form Disregards F.D.R.'s Mandate Against Increased Spending

ALL COST LIMITS ARE SWEEPED ASIDE

Bill Seen As Means of Interrupting Anti-Lynching Filibuster

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Crop
control legislation reached the senate today, but in a form disregarding President Roosevelt's mandate against increased farm expenditures
without additional revenue.

Wary from two days and nights
of almost continuous deliberation,
the senate agriculture committee completed the bill last midnight
by sweeping aside all limits on cost.

Committee members estimated the measure as drafted would raise the present $500,000,000 annual cost of farm benefits by $150,000,000 to $650,000,000, or totals of $850,000,000 to $900,000,000. They made no effort to write in revenue provisions, since all tax legislation must originate in the house.

Extinguish Filibuster

Democratic leaders welcomed the bill—first item on the President's special session program—as a means of interrupting the antilynching filibuster. The anti-lynching bill will have the right-of-way
after a vote on the farm program.

The long-delayed crop control measure, still without a counterpart in the house, provides for a government-farmer partnership in a combination voluntary and compulsory acreage and marketing control program. This was buttressed by federal loans and subsidies for farmer compliance with soil conservation and "ever-normal" granary provisions.

In that respect it met Secretary Wallace's suggestion for a "middle of the road" course.

Chairman Smith (D-SC) appointed Senators Ellender (D-La.), McGill (D-Kan.), Bankhead (D-Ala.) and Bulbo (D-Miss.) to draft the committee report for filing in the senate at noon. Debate probably will start Tuesday.

ing an appropriation of $85,000,000

WINDSOR LIBEL SUIT SETTLED

"Substantial Sum" Paid to Former King Will Be Turned Over To Charities

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Settlement of the Duke of Windsor's libel suit against the publishers and author of "coronation commentary" for a "substantial sum" in damages and costs was announced today before Lord Chief Justice Hewart.

Sir William Jovitt, appearing for Windsor, announced that William Hennemann, Ltd., the publishers, and Geoffrey Dennis, author, would pay the "substantial sum."

He added that Windsor would contribute the damages to charities in which Edward, as king and Prince of Wales, had taken "a deep interest."

(The book was withdrawn from sale and a letter of apology written after protest by the duke last April. It dealt with the coronation and the duke's accession to the throne and referred to what it termed "muddling, fuddling and meddling" during his reign.)

Jack Garner Loses Birthday Argument

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Vice President Garner wanted to argue on his birthday anniversary today that he was 68
years old and not 69.

It was not until he was shown a copy of the "biographical dictionary of the American Congress" proving he was born on Nov. 22, 1868 that he admitted
he was wrong.

"By golly," he said, "I can't keep up with these things. Don't I have enough on my hands as it is?"

"Cactus Jack" describes himself as "the spare tire of the government," but one senator commented:

"He'll call the shots quicker
in this special session of congress than any other man on Capitol Hill."

The vice president's greeting
on his anniversary was:
"I hope to be here when I'm 70—that's all."

LISBON, Nov. 22.—Arthur and Elmer Duke, indicted on robbery charges, pleaded guilty to charges of petty larceny when arraigned in

Judge W. F. Lones sentenced each

The pair was arrested in East Liverpool in August.

HOPES TO BOOST HOME BUILDING

Roosevelt May Send Suggestions To Congress
This Week

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—President Roosevelt, informed officials said today, may send to congress this week some suggestions for stimulating private building.

He is understood to have considered several proposals for handling this phase of his program to check the business recession.

One was reported to be authorization for loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to mortgage companies organized to furnish capital for large scale housing projects. The RFC would match dollar-for-dollar funds put up by private capital.

Small Home Aid

Another was an increase in the percentage of the cost of a small home which may be financed through a mortgage insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Advocates of this program contend many prospective home-builders are deterred by lack of funds from making the 20 per cent down payment now required for FHA financing. They would increase to 30 per cent of the amount which could be insured by the FHA.

A high government official said
the President had indicated favor for the RFC proposal. There has been no report of his attitude toward FHA financing.

Along with this effort to stimulate industry, the President is expected to call in heads of leading utilities companies to discuss a possible vast construction program
in this field.

Utilities Delay

Some economists have estimated that more than $3,000,000,000 in private utility construction has been held up because of uncertainty created by the government's policy.

This construction would be undertaken, utility spokesmen have said, if there were assurances the administration would erect no
"competing" plants, ease the public utilities holding company act and make other concessions.

Reports that Mr. Roosevelt would send congress a message outlining possible means of stimulating residential building aroused speculation over the question of whether he would mention taxes.

THE HOLIDAYS

This week, containing Thanksgiving day, opens the holiday season.

Christmas, the climax, and New Year's eve, the anti-climax, close the season.

In between Thanksgiving and New Year's day lies the most glamorous period of the calendar for most Americans, their nearest approach to the prolonged festivals which, elsewhere in the world, seem to make a contrast unfavorable to the American way of life.

This probably is a case of greener grass on the other side of the fence. In many nations this week Americans away from home, reminded that next Thursday is Thanksgiving day in the United States, will long to come back for "the holidays." They have the benefit of perspective.

Sometimes it is charged that the mood of expansiveness which overtakes Americans during the last month of the year is being over-commercialized; that it is motivated by commercialism. That is absurd. Commercialism is not the cause but the result of the holiday spirit. The urge to share and to give is not commercialism. Commercialism merely provides one means of satisfying it.

DEBATABLE

John L. Lewis, in his capacity as chairman of Labor's Non-Partisan league, says congress should pass the administration's wage-hour bill "at the earliest possible moment" and correct its admitted defects later. Otherwise, he says, the whole proposal may fall in the face of rising opposition to the policy it expresses.

This is a debatable approach to lawmaking. It is a continuation of the hurry up attitude which, in the light of administrative difficulties with new deal laws, is being challenged on many fronts—the Wagner labor act, for instance.

The question is this: Is a bad law better than no law at all? For the last few years—as long ago as the Grundy tariff act which President Hoover apologetically signed—there has been a tendency to rush through certain measures with a view to making them workable afterward. It is wishful thinking applied to legislation.

Having had experience with a number of bad laws, the country now suspects that no law at all may be better than a bad one. If the administration's wage-hour law is to be sentenced to slow death by torture, a good way to dispose of it would be to pass it in a form that will discredit it and its backers, who seem significantly scarce lately.

BOBBING

The bobbing record of Columbus bureaucracy has been increased, it appears, by a mixup about appropriating funds for the state employment service. Unless the legislature acts in its forthcoming special session, this useful agency will face 1938 with no money.

The state director of industrial relations explains no employment service appropriation was requested for 1938 because he thought it would be under the unemployment compensation commission next year. The commission explains it did not learn of this until too late to get action. The oversight may be pardonable. Failure to correct it wouldn't be.

The state employment service is an integral factor in dealing with unemployment. When Ohio's unemployment insurance act goes into effect it will depend heavily on the service. There is, therefore, a special reason for maintaining it.

The best reason, however, is the service's usefulness at present. It is operating an "active" file of 185,000 names through 18 offices in Ohio, with many thousands of names on record, but "inactive." It provides a free, intelligent employment agency for workers, helping them and their prospective employers to get into quick communication when a job is open. It has built up a trained personnel under civil service to handle a job which has become a vital part of the country's general program of social advancement.

The service needs approximately $100,000 to keep its work from being stopped at the end of this year. The legislature should provide the money. There are few places where an equal sum would do an equal amount of good.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, November 23

This should be a very active day, with strong inducements to be "up and doing." But avoid overdoing and thus defeating lucrative returns for effort by too aggressive or hostile attitudes. This opposition and hostility also threaten the private life, particularly the affectional relations, where romantic culminations may be checked by either jealousy or the interference of elders. Upheaval, change and disruption seem imminent. "Make haste slowly" is a good motto today.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively and eventful year, with excellent prospects in business, if too aggressive, impulsive and tempestuous acts, as well as jealousy, are not permitted to interfere. This condition also prevails in the intimate life, where an elderly person may oppose and obstruct romantic tendencies. Upheaval and change are probable, but go slowly.

A child born on this day may have splendid mental and business qualities, with remarkable talents or ingenuity. But the highest rewards for such may be defeated by a wayward, tumultuous and impetuous nature.

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—Diary: A personal note from Emily Post and I first feared my wife had written her of my table didoes, which grow worse with years. So talking to Earl Benham, the sartor, about his boy in Princeton. And a moment to pass the time of day with Mrs. Dodge Sloane, my favorite horsewoman.

Then across the way to a Waldorf breakfast room and a tense youth at the next table, bending toward a rather trembling maid murmured: "I'm sick with love for you!" And I thought of my boyhood and its amourettes and heartbreaks and was glad I am no longer young.

Dined home on pheasants Lee Olwell brought, savored with wild rice and chestnut dressing. And there were canteloupes Amon Carter sent from Texas. So reading a philosophic letter from Frank Shuts who has sold his Miami Herald to the enterprising Mr. Knight, of Akron. To bed.

Ambition: In the shadows of a skyscraper in Wall street an Ida Tarbell-looking news vendor employs the lull between sales in modeling in clay. She has sculpted some rather remarkable likenesses of Al Smith, J. P. Morgan and Premier Mussolini without ever having taken a lesson, acquiring the art naturally. At the age of 60, she is arranging to attend free night classes.

Grace La Rue, whose pantherine walk and enormously wide brimmed hats were so well known to Winter Garden disciples, has written a biography of her show days now that she is in retirement in California. Miss La Rue, wife of the movie actor Hale Hamilton, is one of America's seasoned troupers—her appearance ranging from a runaway adventure with tent shows, to singing to picaninies in a box in vaudeville and a featured spot in the Follies. She has appeared in every city and village, big enough for an "opry," in the land.

New York's overwhelming bigness makes it dandy for specialization. The auto key expert in Radio City, for instance! Scores daily have their keys break off in locks or lose them. The locksmith merely started with desk room in an office there. Now he has a suite with switchboard and assistants to take care of calls. Some say he makes $15,000 a year.

Bud Fisher was the first top flight cartoonist to own an automobile, Rube Goldberg was second. Bud later abandoned motor cars for yachts and race horses and was perhaps the biggest spender in his trade. Fisher's present day prototype is another cartoonist named Fisher, Ham by first name, and creator of the Palooka drawings. He is at present the dude of the comic strips, his get-ups being not merely ensembles but rather super-productions. Fisher is in his early 30's and started his career only a few years ago. He is, tapping back a yawn, telling friends he is already thinking of retiring.

Many theatre box office men of 10 and 15 years ago are still attached to theatres but mostly as house managers of neighborhood movies. They formed a dressy trigger-thinking guild in the day when the theatre was prosperous. Especially so at the vaudeville playhouses, where the audiences came directly to the box office for seats. The box office fellows had a way of making the customer who wanted two seats down front in the aisle take two in the rear—and like it. Legitimate theatre box office men have little to do today. Most choice seats are hawked at the agencies, one reason why so many have turned to the movies.

Bagatelles: Wallace Beery can talk "baby talk" like nobody's business. Joe Laurie Jr. in flush vaudeville days was considered the easiest touch along B'way. William Gaxton is Shepherd of the Lambs for the second time. Homer Croy left New York flat to attend a corn husking contest in his native Missouri.

Ennui: The waitress at a quick lunch place the other day was not her usual sunny self. Questioned, she explained with a sigh: "What with one thing and another I have just smiled myself out."

PTOMAININE POISONING
A RECENT newspaper item told the story of a severe outbreak of ptomaine poisoning, involving a party of picnicers.

I was attracted by the article because ptomaine poisoning is not common as it was in former years. Food poisoning, or ptomaine poisoning as it is more commonly called, is caused by the eating of spoiled food. Improperly prepared food or its careless handling leads to ptomaine poisoning and spoilage. Food inadequately preserved or exposed to flies and other insects quickly spoils and, when it is eaten, causes severe poisoning.

In former years it was not uncommon to hear about serious and even fatal cases resulting from eating bad food. By reason of the great strides in refrigeration and the preservation of foods, ptomaine poisoning is now infrequently encountered. Rapid transportation of perishables guards against spoilage. There is no question that the general health of the nation has been promoted by these improvements.

Traced to Neglect

But in spite of these improvements and our increased knowledge of foods, ptomaine poisoning still occurs. As in olden days, it can be traced to neglect or carelessness in the handling of foods. For example, if you go on a picnic, it is wise to take only such foods as are not perishable, and only such as can be protected against contamination.

If you plan a long trip, take a small refrigeration box. Always keep milk and other perishable liquids in thermos bottles. Avoid foods that are difficult to protect from spoiling.

The sufferer from food poisoning usually complains of severe nausea and headache. The pains are located in the abdomen. Of course, such symptoms may not be caused by food poisoning, but may be due to some inflammation of the gall bladder, stomach or intestine.

Avoid the use of drastic cathartics and consult at once with your doctor. He can best determine whether the discomfort is due to spoiled food or is produced by some organic disorder.

Precautions Needed

always of the reliability of the food stuffs you eat. Stop at approved and sanitary eating places. If you cook your own food, make sure you take the necessary precautions. It is particularly important to be extremely careful about the quality of milk and drinking water.

These few simple rules are worth following when you are away from home. With trailer life and increased travel everywhere, tourists are warned against these dangers.

"Beauty's A Charm" by HARRIET HINSDALE

SYNOPSIS

Don Ames, publicity agent for Bloom-of-Youth Cosmetics, goes to Carterton, Louisiana, to tell lovely Lucy Lee Carter that her photograph has won first prize of one thousand dollars in the nation-wide beauty contest sponsored by Ames' firm. Finding the original as beautiful as the photograph, Don at once proposes that Bloom-of-Youth back Lucy Lee as its entrant in the International Beautyquest soon to be held in Atlantic City. Pearl Carter, ambitious and comparatively young second wife of ineffectual Wakefield Carter, at last persuades her husband that fame and fortune await them all through Lucy Lee. The girl herself, bewildered by the sudden turn of events, shrinks from leaving Rosemead, her home, and Clyde Dixon, her childhood sweetheart. But she consents in order to send her young brother, Juddy, to school and to help her father. As the whole family goes about the boat at New Orleans, bound for New York, Lucy Lee gets her first taste of the staring crowds and flashing cameras that are to mark her career as a beauty queen. And as the steamer enters New York Harbor, her peaceful life in Carterton seems a thousand years in the past. Don Ames meets them with more news photographers and the usual New York ballyhoo reception. That same afternoon they go on to Atlantic City. The following morning in the hotel grill Ames meets Neville Preston, stage and screen idol, whom he has known for years.

CHAPTER IX

Ames gave his order to the hovering waiter and lit a cigarette. "What are you doing here on this coast?" thought you were saving Hollywood and the talkies from the dogs.

"Don't you ever read the papers?" Preston replied. "But I forgot. I suppose you can't make out words above one syllable, even yet. Here try to decipher this." He handed the newspaper over, long slender finger pointing to a certain item.

Ames glanced at it with a groan. "Drusilla's column! Have mercy, man. Don't ask me to read that drivel before breakfast." He shuddered extravagantly. "What's the fair Drusilla raving about now?" He practiced eye went swiftly down the column.

A little birdie tells us that handsome Neville Preston is about to fulfill a long cherished desire and join the ranks of famous actors who have become megaphone wielders. We understand he has just signed a contract with Supreme Pictures to direct, at a salary running into breathtaking figures. Of course we were glad that dear Neville is getting what he wants.

But what about the millions of feminine fans who think he is a combination of Greek god and perfect lover? Who will set their hearts aflutter as our incomparable Neville does?

Ames laid the paper back on the table.

"So that's the dope. Well, all I jibed. 'Whoever happens to be the boy, God help the movies if you're ready of the moment, of course.'"

Face Liquidation

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—The Federal Knitting Mills Co., harassed earlier this year by labor disputes, faced liquidation and dissolution today on the recommendation of directors.

Stockholders in the company will meet Dec. 6 to act on the recommendation of directors which was attributed to "changes x x x in the knit goods industry x x x which have placed the Federal Knitting Mills Co. in a particularly unfavorable competitive position." The company normally employs 300 workers.

"Nice going," Ames chuckled. "What did you do?"

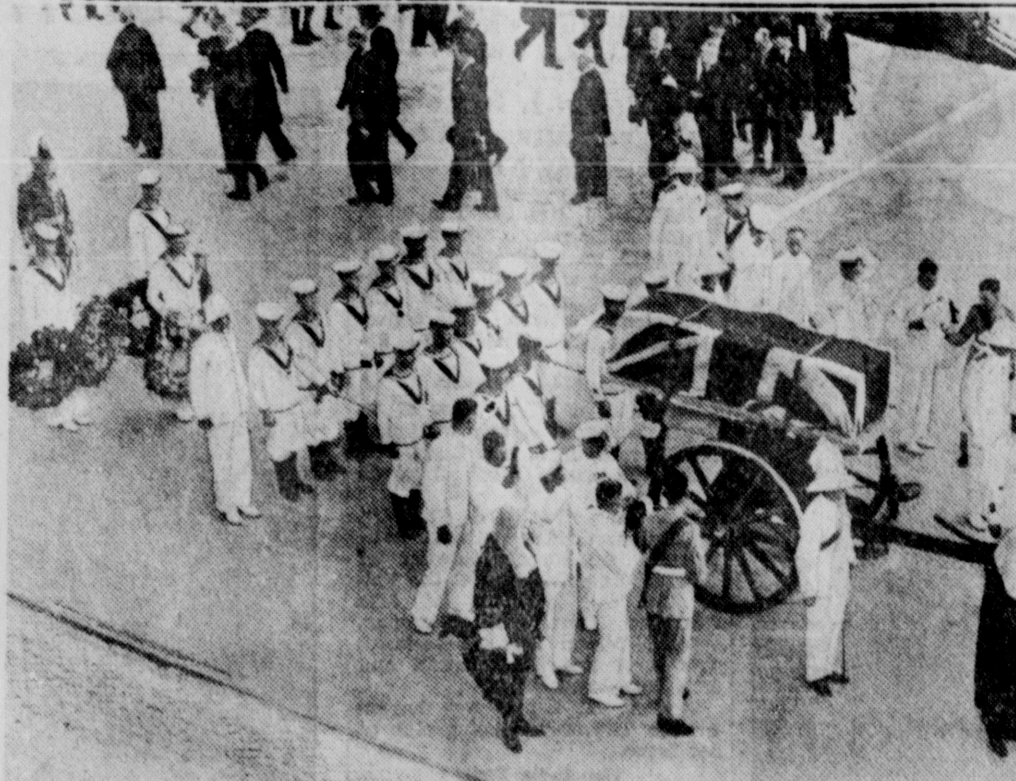

"Got up, snapped on the light, came toward her—said something, I suppose. Though what it was, I haven't the faintest idea. But at the sound of my voice gave a little scream, stared at me wildly and crumpled up in a dead faint. I caught her in my arms and for the first time had a good look at her face." His voice died away softly and again he was silent.

His listener waited, then asked impatiently, "Well? Don't keep me in suspense, fellat!"

"One of the loveliest faces I have ever seen, Ames. And so young—so gorgeously young. Unsullied. What a type for pictures!"

Theater Attractions

James Ellison and Jean Parker in a scene from "The Barrier" at the Grand tonight and Tuesday.

"The Firefly", taken from the Rudolf Friml operetta, will show tonight and Tuesday at the State, with Jeanette MacDonald and Alan Jones in the leading romantic roles. Warren William, Henry Daniell, Douglass Jumbo, Leonard Penn, Tom Rutherford and others in the supporting cast.

Good Music and Story

The picture is a rare combination of excellent music and an interesting story. The action concerns a beautiful singer, "The Firefly", played by Miss MacDonald, and a wealthy young Spaniard, played by Jones.

"The Firefly" is in reality a spy for Spain, set to find out Napoleon's plan for the French invasion of Spain. Jones also is a spy, for France, who has been ordered to keep her from performing her mission.

When circumstances force abdication of the Spanish king and the French set up Joseph Bonaparte as the new ruler, "The Firefly" blames herself for failing to get the necessary information. Five years of war elapse and then England comes to Spain's aid. A clever ruse is used by "The Firefly" to trick the young Spaniard, Don Diego, and give Spain and the British an advantage which results in the French invaders defeat.

"The Barrier" at Grand "The Barrier", by Rex Beach, is the attraction at the Grand tonight and Tuesday. The cast which does so much to make "The Barrier" a memorable picture is headed by Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker, James Ellison, Otto Kruger, Robert Barrat, Andy Clyde and Sara Haden. Carrillo has one

Hiram President Speaks At Lisbon Church Services

LISBON, Nov. 22.—Dr. Kenneth Brown, president of Hiram college, was principal speaker at the 110th anniversary service of the Christian church here Sunday night.

Speaking on "Grounds For Gratitude," Dr. Brown said "we should be thankful for living in this age, with all its splendid possibilities and with a privilege of working for a new and better world—educationally, economically and spiritually."

In the new age towards which we are working it is not 'we for mine' but 'we for us' he said in pointing out that the previous selfish attitude of the majority of persons is diminishing.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. P. C. Lake, pastor, who gave a brief outline of the church's history, since its founding here 110 years ago by Walter Scott.

At an afternoon service the many persons who attended the program heard songs by the church choir, directed by Prof. Arthur Wise. Greetings from former members and pastors were read.

The auditorium in which the programs were held was dedicated in January of 1841 and has been in continuous use ever since.

CHRYSLER SEEKS PERFECT ENGINE

Every Effort Made to Eliminate Human Fallibility in Perfecting Mechanism

With the beginning of 1938 production, the Chrysler Division of the Chrysler Corporation, completely eliminated all human error in tuning and testing the New Gold Seal engines used in Chrysler cars and made certain that every engine would leave the factory in perfect adjustment. Tuning engines is of course nothing new in automobile production. Chrysler always has had a well-equipped dynamometer room in which this was done and every care was taken to make the tests thorough and accurate.

Human Fallibility a Factor
Until the present time, however, the element of human fallibility has been a considerable factor in the process. No amount of training, natural aptitude or conscientious effort on the part of the operators would guarantee results. David A. Wallace, president of the Chrysler Division was quick to grasp the fact that the process never could give 100 per cent satisfactory results. Consequently when an infallible checking device was perfected to remove the human element and "guess work", Wallace immediately adopted it. So far as can be ascertained, Chrysler is the only manufacturer using this method of checking engines.

This instrument, known as the Potter Opto-Beam, performs a dual function. It gives a vacuum reading and exhaust gas analysis that determines the components of exhaust gases. Between the two, it is possible to detect the slightest maladjustment of moving parts or poor adjustment in carburetion.

Abandon "Ear" Tuning
Wallace first became convinced that the factory tests were not completely satisfactory when the engine analyzer was introduced as a service accessory for the Chrysler dealers. The result was that dealers found many engines that had passed the rigid human inspection at the factory were found wanting when subjected to the all-revealing analysis.

Whereupon Mr. Wallace formed the conclusion that the factory no longer could do its engine tuning "by ear" when the work was going to be checked in the field by an instrument much more accurate and much more extensive in its findings than anything possible to human beings. He determined that the factory would in the future do its own engine analyzing with an instrument of similar character. This is one of the countless reasons why Chrysler is the best buy in its field, points out J. G. Smith of the Smith garage, E. Third st., Chrysler and Plymouth dealer here.

GLOVES RETAIN ORIGINAL SIZE

That Is, If They're Cleaned By Paris; In This Case, You May Depend On Results

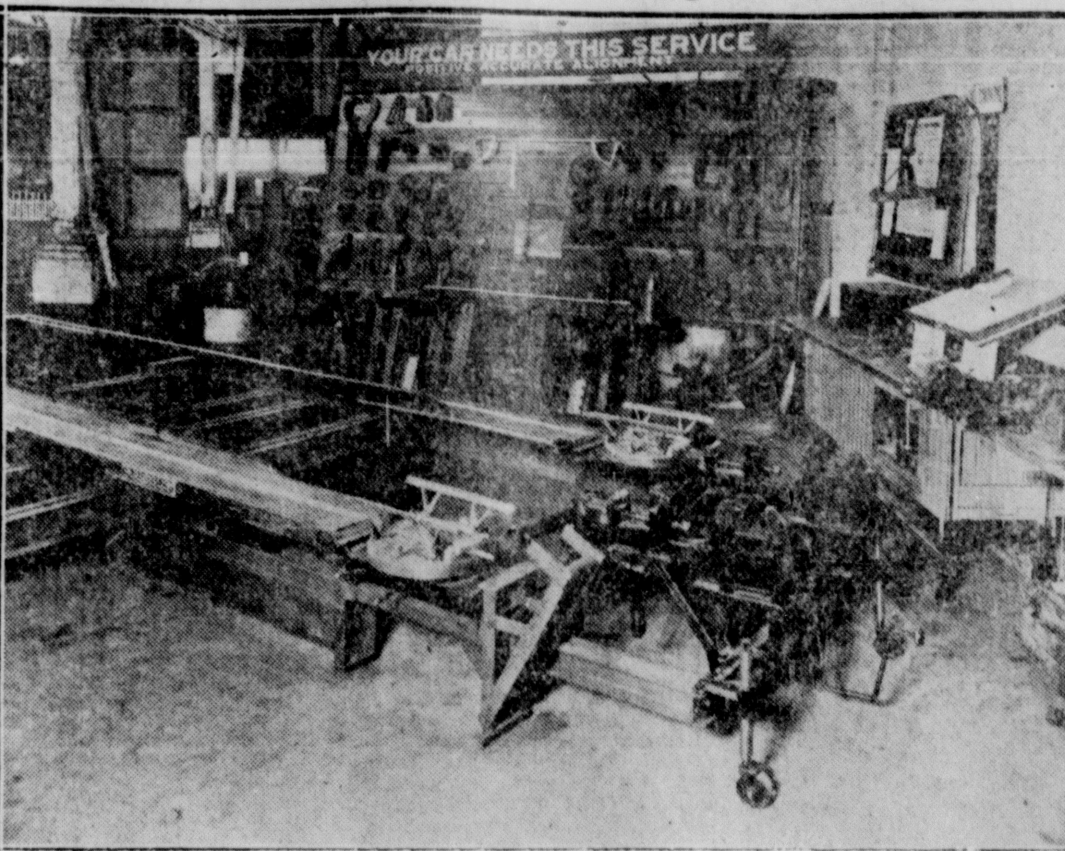

Some do not realize that kid gloves, furs, leather jackets, leather caps and any article of this nature may be made like new by the special processes of cleaning in every day use at the Paris Cleaners plant.

Leather, if not properly treated, soon becomes hard, cracks and is destroyed. But if the cleaner knows how to handle it and has the proper equipment, its life is almost limitless. Many women worry about stretching kid gloves. At the Paris, this important detail is handled in such a way that the gloves' size remains as received—neither shrunk nor stretched.

Improved Business Conditions Seen By Johns-Manville Sales Corp. Aid

The coming year should be one of increasingly good business and resumed recovery in the opinion of C. H. Dawson of the Johns-Manville Sales Corp., who has just returned from a national sales conference in New York sponsored by the Johns-Manville Corp.

As a result of his observation at the conference, he believes that the present lull in business activity is temporary and that the underlying fundamentals call for further recovery during the next two or three years at least.

Pay Still Larger
In support of his belief, Dawson cited the facts that pay envelopes of wage earners are larger than at any time since 1930; that the cost of living is still below that of 1929; and that the building cycle, which is fundamental to prosperity, has run scarcely one-third of the way toward supplying the basic shortage that exists.

As for his own business, Dawson was decidedly optimistic. His company, he said, plans immediate expansion of sales forces and is looking forward to even better business than was experienced during this year which will be well ahead of last year.

As a basis for this outlook, Dawson explained that in the past the home insulation industry has not reacted to business lulls as has other types of endeavor.

This industry, he said, was built during the depression and grew and expanded when practically everything else was bogging down to the depths. Taking Johns-Manville, one of the leaders in the field, as an example, he pointed out that

QUAKERS CLOSE GRID SEASON THANKSGIVING

California, Minnesota and Dartmouth Are Hailed As Sectional Football Champs

FIVE FOOTBALL TITLES REMAIN UNCLAIMED YET

Army, Navy Meet In Most Colorful Game Booked For This Week

By HERBERT BARKER
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The football world saluted California, Minnesota, and Dartmouth today as first of the country's major 1937 sectional champions and then turned to a mass of unfinished business, most of which will be disposed of in this week's double program.

Some 85,000 fans looked on at Palo Alto last week as California's Golden Bears smashed through Stanford, 13-0, captured the Pacific Coast conference crown for the first time since 1928, won the right to represent the far west in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena New Year's day, and wound up a regular season marked only by a tie with Washington, the 1936 conference titleholder.

Minnesota, beaten by Nebraska and Notre Dame in major upsets, nevertheless salvaged the Big Ten championship out of the wreckage by brushing aside Wisconsin's Badgers, 13-6, to complete an unbeaten conference campaign. Meanwhile the wahoo-wah Indians of Dartmouth trounced Columbia, 27-0, won the Ivy league title for the second year in a row and finished an undefeated season for the first time since 1925.

Still to be settled are the Southern, Southeastern, Southwest, Rocky Mountain and Big Six conference title races as well as such speculative questions as a generally recognized eastern champion and an opponent for California in the Rose Bowl game.

Yale's defeat at the hands of a well-drilled, effective Harvard machine, 13-6, and the 6-0 beating Montana took from Idaho reduced the list of major undefeated eleven to ten. Of these the east contributes six—Lafayette, Pitt, Fordham, Villanova, Dartmouth and Holy Cross. The others are California, Colorado, Alabama and Santa Clara. Lafayette, Dartmouth and California all have completed their schedules but each of the others has one more hurdle to vault.

Fordham's Rams, who pushed St. Mary's Gaels all over the field but scored only once in a 6-0 victory, close on Saturday against their traditional rivals, New York university, whose 7-6 triumph a year ago still is fresh in Fordham's memory. Pitt and Villanova invade foreign soil for their wind-up games. The Panthers, who smashed through Penn State almost at will to win, 28-7, travel to Durham to play Duke's Blue Devils, 20-7 conquerors of North Carolina State, on Saturday. Villanova, which ran up a 33-0 count on Temple, will close against Loyola at Los Angeles Sunday.

Most colorful of the week's engagements will find Army battling Navy at Philadelphia on Saturday in the annual service academy classic. Army, without using a single varsity player, overpowered St. John's of Annapolis, 47-6, and Navy was the victim of a stunning upset in the 26-6 shellacking by Princeton.

The close of the Big Ten campaign leaves fans with slender fare this week. Kansas, beaten by Arizona, 9-7, and hoping for a share in the Big Six title, plays Missouri on Thanksgiving day but Nebraska will be favored to clinch the crown beyond dispute by whipping Kansas State on Saturday. Nebraska finished a scoring punch for the first time in routing Iowa, 28-0, while Kansas State was beaten by Iowa State, 13-7.

Notre Dame, which cashed in on a blocked kick to stop Northwestern, 7-0, will play host to Southern California's Trojans in a major intersectional tussle on Saturday. Climax of the Southeastern conference sends unbeaten, untied Alabama against Vanderbilt on Thursday. A victory for Vanderbilt will leave the two teams tied in the final standings with five victories and one defeat. Louisiana State, nosed out by Vanderbilt, can make it a triple tie in that case by stopping Tulane on Saturday. Mississippi and Mississippi State, Kentucky and Tennessee are other holiday pairings.

The Southern conference championship awaits the results of a heavy Thanksgiving day schedule. Clemson and Maryland can wind up undefeated and untied by checking Furman and Washington and Lee respectively.

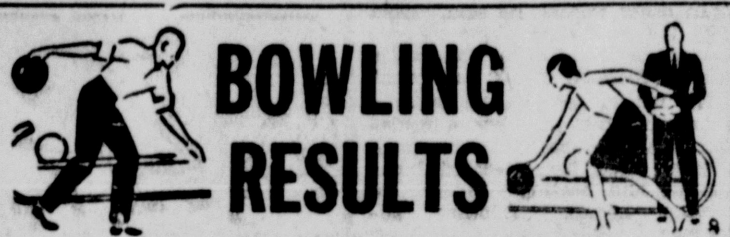

Texas Christian's 7-2 triumph over Rice threw the conference race so wide open that only the final games on December 4 will determine the winner.

Colorado and Denver play on Thanksgiving day in the decisive match of the Rocky Mountain conference race. Denver can tie unbeaten Colorado in the final standings only by winning this game.

Blocked Kick Wins For Notre Dame

A snow strewn, well frozen Dyche stadium, Evanston, Ill., was the scene Saturday for the annual football uproar between Northwestern and Notre Dame. The Irish won, 7 to 0, scoring on a blocked kick. Here Jefferson of Northwestern (31) is shown after he made kick which was blocked by A. Shellen (discernible behind Jefferson) and caught by Captain Sweeney, No. 47, who went over for a touchdown. Extra point was picked by Andy Pupils.

With Mike Hutter again setting the pace, the Salem Eagles team defeated the Duquesne Beers of Urichville, 27-0 to 27-17, in an inter-city match at Urichville yesterday.

Hutter, who holds the three game score record among Salem bowlers with 716, banged out games of 181, 209 and 235 for a 625 total.

In two special matches at the Olympic alleys in Akron Sunday the Salem News eagles gave a good account of themselves, but in neither case was it quite good enough.

They dropped the first match, 27-0 to 27-6, to the Bell Hop Sandwich Shop five and the second match, 26-5 to 27-5, to the Petrou Nylis.

LONDON—British boys leaving school today demand jobs in trades where the work is pleasant and the prospects of promotion good, according to a statement by an official of the Ministry of Labor. "Blind-alley jobs are being shunned by the modern boy," it was said.

DURHAM, N. C.—Orchids to North Carolina! Donovan S. Correll, fellow in botany at Duke University, has identified 33 species and five varieties of orchids growing in every part of the state. He has recorded some of them for the first time.

THREE BUCKEYE PLAYERS NAMED TO HONOR TEAM

Wolf, Zarnas and McDonald Chosen On Big Ten Eleven

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The Big Ten all star gridiron array, selected by the coaches for the Associated Press, lines up today with three stalwarts from Minnesota's championship, a trio from Ohio State, two from Purdue, and one each from Indiana, Northwestern and Iowa in the mythical battlefront.

After voting battles as close, at most positions, as the scores which decided the championship season's big struggles, two members of last year's all star "varsity" Halfbacks, John Heap of Northwestern, and Purdue's Cecil Isbell, again made places on the team. Injuries were largely responsible for the three others, sensational Andy Gram of Minnesota, and Northwestern's great defensive pair, quarterback Fred Vanzo and end John Kovatch, yielding their positions.

Rugged Jim McDonald of Ohio State, his brilliance undimmed by a shift from a ball-carrying assignment to blocking drudgery, succeeded Vanzo at quarter. Isbell, last year's honor fullback, moved to Gram's halfback position, and Corby Davis, Indiana's 200-pound power-house, key-man of the Hoosier offense, earned Isbell's 1936 post.

Heap did not reach his 1936 offensive stride until midway of the season, but from one end of the campaign to the other, was regarded as the league's sharpest defensive back. Isbell's versatility made the Boiler-makers highly dangerous in every game.

The coaches liked one whole side of Minnesota's line, naming rangy Ray King, a second team man a year ago; Lou Midler and Francis Twedell to end, tackle and guard jobs, respectively. Bob Lannon of Iowa outpointed Chicago's versatile Bob Fitzgerald and Fred Benz of Wisconsin in a hot contest for the end post accorded Kovatch last year. Purdue's Marty Schreyer won the other tackle place.

The remaining line jobs went to Ohio State huskies by margins of a single point over Indiana stars, Ralph Wolf, the "Buckeyes" center beat out George "Sparky" Miller, Indiana's ace-kicking pivotman, and Gus Zarnas nipped Jim Sirtosky for the other honor assignment at guard.

There were no unanimous choices, but King and Davis came as close as possible, each receiving nine first team votes, and one secondary ballot. Only Twedell, a junior, kept the team from being an all-senior affair. Twedell, with Midler, Wolf, Zarnas and Schreyer moved up from the 1936 honorable mention ranks. Neither Lannon nor McDonald figured in last year's voting.

The second string, Fitzgerald and Benz, ends; Alex Schoenbaum of Ohio State, and Don Stegel of Michigan, tackles; Sirtosky and Ralph Benz by another Wolf, guard; Miller at center; Vanzo at quarter, two sophomore stars, Nile Kinnick of Iowa, and Harold Van Every of Minnesota, halfbacks, and Larry Buhler of Minnesota at fullback, gave all but Illinois representation on the two teams.

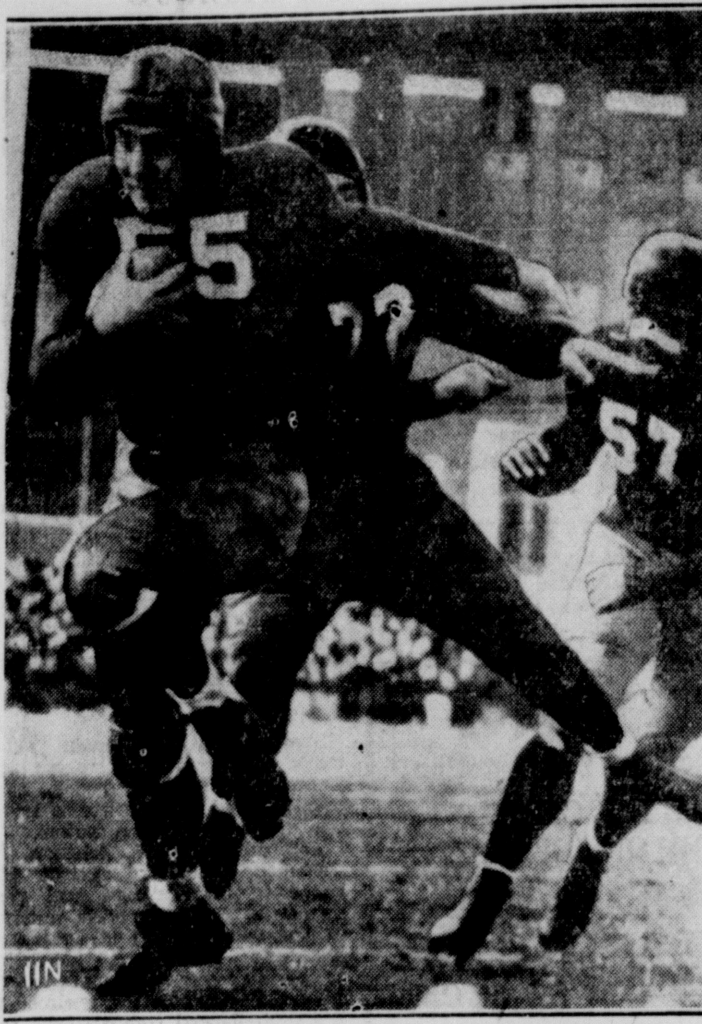

Dick Nardi Cops Scoring Honors

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Dick Nardi, elusive Ohio State halfback who finished his collegiate gridiron career Saturday by scoring one touchdown, captured Big Ten individual scoring honors by that goal line jaunt against Michigan.

Nardi registered 30 points on five touchdowns in western conference games during the 1937 season, topping by one point the highpoint total hung up in 1936 by Steve Toth, Northwestern fullback.

Rudy Gmitro, the little Minnesota back who was a big part of the Gopher Big Ten title drive, registered 24 points on four touchdowns for runner-up honors, with third place going to Howie Weiss, the hard-plunging Wisconsin fullback, who scored 20 points for the Badgers.

Gophers Beat Wisconsin

With the temperature hobbing uncertainly around the fourteen mark, 60,000 persons snuggled in furs watched the Minnesota Gophers beat the Wisconsin Badgers, 13 to 6, in the 1937 Big Ten football finale. Picture shows Bill Schmitz, Wisconsin halfback, as he got away for a 13-yard gain around Gophers' right flank before being hauled down from behind by Horace Bell—72—star Minnesota guard.

LISBON BEATEN BY COLUMBIANA

Fisher and Bauer Score Touchdowns In Tri-County Game

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 21.—Completing the 1937 football season here, Columbiana High school defeated Lisbon, 16 to 0, in a Tri-County league game Saturday.

Columbiana tallied all of its points in the third quarter. Fisher and Bauer each scored touchdowns, while the other points were made on a Lisbon safety and Fisher's two goals after touchdowns.

The victory enabled Columbiana to wind up its season with only one defeat on the record. Minerva was the lone team to conquer the local eleven.

CROP CONTROL PLAN IN SENATE

Form Disregards F.D.R.'s
Mandate Against Increased Spending

for benefit payments. If adopted by the full committee, said Rep. Pierce (D-Ore), the new ways and means committee will be asked to raise the funds probably through excise or processing taxes.

The complex senate bill, approved unanimously by the committee, provided that party payments vary according to conditions produced by crop volume. They would be low in lean years and high in seasons of extreme over-supplies, the object being to guarantee producers the difference between the current market quotations and a party price level.

(Party is reached when farmers get a price equivalent in purchasing power to the price received in the favorable period from 1909 to 1914.)

How They'd Benefit
As far as they were sufficient, benefits under the present soil conservation program would be diverted to party payments on wheat, corn and cotton. Tobacco, rice, and other commodities not covered in the new bill would continue to share conservation subsidies after a deduction of about $250,000,000 for party schedules.

They also would participate in approximately $25,000,000 of import duties earmarked annually for the removal of crop supplies.

The senate bill provisions included: For wheat and corn—voluntary acreage reduction contracts; a farmer referendum on marketing quotas; a fine of 50 per cent of the party price for produce sold in excess of allotments; party payments.

AKRON RUBBER PLANTS RESUME

Three-Day Strike Brought To Close; Union Raps Governor

(By Associated Press)

AKRON, Nov. 22.—Workers went back to their jobs at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plants today following settlement of a three-day strike which halted operations and made 12,000 employees idle.

Members of the United Rubber Workers of America voted at a Sunday mass meeting to accept the company's proposals.

Union counsel prepared today to file charges of intimidation against Gov. Martin L. Davey in a complaint to the National Labor Relations Board.

Stanley Denlinger, general counsel, announced that Goodyear had No. 2 voted unanimously to take action against Gov. Davey for alleged intimidation "in furtherance of his own selfish personal political ambitions."
